The image shows a full page of graph paper with a red grid pattern. The grid consists of small squares. There are four horizontal bands of these squares. The top band has 8 rows. The second band has 6 rows, with the 5th row ending at a vertical line labeled '▲400'. The third band has 6 rows. The bottom band has 6 rows, with the 5th row ending at a vertical line labeled '▲500'. The 6th row in this bottom band ends at a vertical line labeled '▲600'. The rest of the grid continues below these lines.
